Uniform Building Code:

(a) Sec. 25.03 shall read as follows:

A. WOOD MEMBERS shall be designed, used and identified in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. The allowable unit stresses used for design shall not exceed those set forth

sizes shall be accepted as the minimum net sizes conforming to nominal sizes. Nominal sizes may be shown on the plans. Computations to determine the required sizes of members shall be based on the net dimensions (actual sizes) and not the nominal sizes. If rough sizes or

Structural members and sheathing shall be grade stamped with the stamp of a licensed lumber grader or grading agency, when such stamp has been identified by filing a facsimile with the Building Inspection Department. A maximum of 15% of utility grade studding may be included in construction and standard grades for use in buildings, housing Group H, I and J occupancies when not exceeding two stories in height nor an unsupported stud length in excess of 10 feet. ORDINANCE NO. 7528
(NEW SERIES)

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING ARTICLE 1, CHAPTER IX OF THE SAN DIEGO MUNICIPAL CODE BY ADDING THERETO A NEW SECTION 11.02.5 REGULATING LUMBER GRADING USED IN THE CITY OF SAN DIEGO.

BE IT ORDAINED By the Council of the City of San Diego, as follows:

Section 2. That Article 1, Chapter IX, of the San Diego Municipal Code be, and the same is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to be known as and numbered Section 11.02.5 and to read as follows:

SEC. 11.02.5 UNIFORM BUILDING CODE AUGMENTED

The following specifically enumerated subsections shall be amendments or additions to Sections of the Uniform Building Code:

(a) Sec. 23.03 shall read as follows:

A. WOOD MEMBERS shall be designed, used and identified in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. The allowable unit stresses used for design shall not exceed those set forth in the tables of this chapter for the respective species and grades or for the comparable grades, as determined by the grading rules of an approved agency. WOOD MEMBERS shall be identified by the stamp of an approved authoritative agency and grading shall be done by an authorized representative of such agency.

B. SIZE DETERMINATION. Minimum sizes of lumber members required by this Code refer to nominal sizes. U.B.C. Standards No. 25-1, No. 25-20, No. 25-21, and No. 25-23 dressed sizes shall be accepted as the minimum net sizes conforming to nominal sizes. Nominal sizes may be shown on the plans. Computations to determine the required sizes of members shall be based on the net dimensions (actual sizes) and not the nominal sizes. If rough sizes or sizes or shapes other than U.B.C. Standards No. 25-1, No. 25-19, No. 25-20, No. 25-21, and No. 25-23 dressed sizes are to be used, the actual net sizes shall be specified on the plans.

(b) Sec. 23.04 shall read as follows:

A. ALLOWABLE UNIT STRESS ON PLANE. Where stresses are designed for use of structural lumber, structural glued-nailed lumber, or plywood structurally, the stresses or the stresses and grades shall be shown on the plans with the building name.

A FIFTH PARAGRAPH READING: ROAKIN JOINTS, LAP JOINTS, PLANKS, BEAMS, STRINGERS AND SIMILAR LOAD BEARING MEMBERS shall be not less in grade than "Standard" as defined in Grading Rules No. 12, effective March 12, 1927, of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, or equal grade determined by published grading rules of an agency established as an authoritative grading agency for the species involved. Structural members and sheathing shall be grade stamped with the stamp of a licensed lumber grader or grading agency, when such stamp has been identified by filing a facsimile with the Building Inspection Department. A maximum of 15% of utility grade studding may be included in construction and standard grades for use in buildings, housing Group H, I and J occupancies when not exceeding two stories in height nor an unsupported stud length in excess of 10 feet. Sheathing used for structural diaphragms, structural bracing or for occupancies other than H, I and J shall be "Standard" grade or equal. Roof sheathing and sheathing used to provide a base for flooring in buildings housing Group H, I and J occupancies not exceeding two stories in height may be utility grade minimum or equal. Utility grade sheathing where permitted by this Ordinance shall be grade stamped as required by the grading rules applicable to the species involved. Not less than 50% of all re-sawed stock shall be grade stamped. T and G, sub-flooring for a minimum nominal thickness of 2 inches may be utility grade when used on center to center spans not exceeding 4 feet 6 inches. Utility grade two-inch roof sheathing may be used where the center to center spans between supports do not exceed 6 feet 2 inches. Two inch floor and roof sheathing 6 inches or less in width and 12 inches or more in width shall be tongue and groove. Top wall plates in group H, I and J occupancies may be utility grade.

EXCEPTION: Nothing in this section shall waive the right of the Director of Building Inspection to reject wood members which, in his opinion, appear to be incorrectly graded or are not in conformance with published grading rules of an approved agency. Re-use of wood members without grade stamping may be permitted in buildings which are moved, or altered.

Section 2. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force on the thirty-first day from and after its passage.
